

Jon Zaikowski, Assistant Director, New York Angels

Jon Zaikowski joined the New York Angels as Assistant Director in 2021. Jon first came to New York as a graduate student at Columbia University in 2017. While in school he got his introduction to entrepreneurship by co-founding a biotechnology startup, CapCell Biologics. He subsequently worked for the Bucks Built Startup Fund as a Program Associate and happily continues to help early-stage companies however he can. Jon also has a background in marketing, public speaking, and philosophy.